Cars Helping Charities

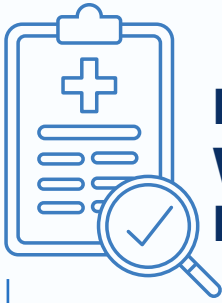

A Case Study on Morris Animal Foundation

There are countless advantages to donating your car – it's sustainable, an act of goodwill, and is convenient for the donor. But at Cars Helping Charities, our impact goes far beyond convenience and sustainability. As a partner of CHC, you'll be able to see the tangible benefits of working with us.

About Morris Animal Foundation

Morris Animal Foundation is an organization set on improving the lives of animals. For over 70 years, Morris Animal Foundation has advanced the health of animals, helping over 70,000 species. With passion and commitment, the heart of Morris Animal Foundation lies in the gap between resources and science to advance animal welfare. They are determined to close that gap.

How A Partnership With Cars Helping Charities Helped Fuel Medical Research

Morris Animal Foundation's innovative, industry-leading structure made it a perfect fit for working with Cars Helping Charities. For over 10 years, CHC's vehicle donation services have been transformed into resources that help Morris Animal Foundation directly. In fact, their most recent donation was used to fund additional research for animals.

We've gotten to know the team at Morris Animal Foundation personally and are proud to be making a difference alongside them. Without a partnership with Cars Helping Charities over the last decade, Morris Animal Foundation's impact wouldn't have extended as wide as it has today.

Why Work with Cars Helping Charities?

It's easy to not pay much thought to car donations. When you get to know the names and faces of organizations, however, you start to see a car donated as so much more. What could have ended up in a dump has now made a difference. Cars Helping Charities steps in to bridge that gap by automating a piece of your donor outreach that you otherwise might not have considered.

We're passionate about working with non-profit organizations that are looking to boost funds and make a difference. The money raised through vehicle donation changes lives and helps you carry out your mission. We'd love to partner with you and join the charge of your non-profit.
